

Using Human Rights to Build New Relationships

A Workshop

on

Human rights and how they can be used locally to build new relationships between Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples

- Get to know human rights – yours, your family's, and your community's - discrimination, housing, health services, education, poverty, etc.
- Learn how international human rights systems and instruments can be used in Canada to ensure human rights are respected
- Use human rights principles and values to strengthen joint initiatives and build relationships

Everyone Welcome!

A light lunch will be served at 12:30.
If possible, please let us know by
March 4 if you plan to attend.

Saturday, March 8, 2008
9:30 am – 12:30 pm
Rainbow Community Centre
808 20th St W
SASKATOON

For more information or to RSVP please contact
TONY HAYNES at 242.1500 ext 236

Sponsored by KAIROS: Canadian Ecumenical Justice Initiatives
In association with the Remembering the Children Aboriginal and Church Leaders' Tour to Prepare for the Truth and Reconciliation Commission